

CREATE

ANALYZE

WRITE

Develop a game board.

Create game pieces, instructions, and get ready for the fun to happen!

Playlist

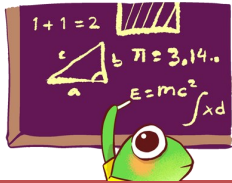

Choose a frog, and put together a list of songs you know that they would love.

Your Superstar

Write a letter to your “Gratitude Superstar” and let them know that you’re grateful for them. Be specific about what they do for you.

Create a Lesson Plan

Pick an essential idea another student should learn about gritudes and develop a lesson plan.

What Pond Are You From?

Using character traits, quotes, and evidence from the parable, decide what frog you are most like. Write down the comparisons of you and the frog you chose or create a visual representation.

Write a different ending for The Orange Frog than the one that you read.

Scrapbooking

Develop a scrapbook page for the frogs of the parable. Choose one of their memorable moments and depict it. Use images, fun fonts, and words.

Research

Look at a different version of The Orange Frog and determine where Gritudes is present in the text. Compare and contrast both versions of gritudes.

Acting

Write a dialogue between two people (or frogs) that depicts the premise of gritudes.

On the Web

Develop a web quest based on the gritudes. Use the definition of the word, celebrities who practice it, etc

Memoir

Write a memoir from the viewpoint of one of the frogs when they are reflecting on what they’re grateful for.

Your Interpretation

Write what you would have said for the thoughts section of “gratitude” in The Orange Frog lesson plan.
